

I encourage the FCC to not stop XM from providing the traffic reports. It is a fabulous service and allowing the free market system to prevail should be what this is all about.- This is an incredible service where I can get my Boston traffic update immediately after leaving my home. This way I don't play the hit and miss game of searching for a station with a traffic report before I commit to which highway to take.